Was unable to get through 5 models/props with this assignment sadly, was swamped with other stuff. Nothing new or weird came up that I had to solve outside of time management and priorities. Eventually I would be forced to figure out how to create the monstrosity that is the fan and the curtains on the other side of the wall, however. Because of this, I'm thinking on how to solve these issues as I'm working on the current models. I'll get to UV mapping and messing around with the models in substance painter later.
